

347—1.2(91) Scope and application. This chapter describes the organization of the bureau, the laws it enforces, and the methods by which and location where the public may obtain information or make submissions or requests.